

Often the look sought from a contemporary kitchen is minimal, sleek and blended into its surroundings. Innovative solutions such as hidden handles, push touch doors and drawers and concealed accessories are often used to achieve this goal. At Magic, our aim is to ensure that this is also an extension of the client's personality and lifestyle.

Often we are dictated to by a number of factors including the style of the house and so the challenge begins to take the design to the next level and tailor it to the client's needs as well as being sympathetic to the space it embraces. Great looks and function makes for a happy place to be, cook and entertain.
